Brier score improves for both throwing-hand groups

May 8–14, 2025 • lower values indicate better probability forecasts

The reduction is larger for left-handed pitchers, helping narrow the original model's handedness-related performance gap.